

MAKE MUSIC

NEW YORK

Last year, on the summer solstice, Make Music New York organized one of the biggest musical events in the city's history: 560 FREE OUTDOOR CONCERTS in an incredible array of genres and locations. Thousands of musicians — from Metropolitan Opera artists to underground MC's, Tuvan throat singers to high school bands — entertained New Yorkers on sidewalks, streets, parks, gardens, and even cemeteries throughout all five boroughs of NYC.

This SATURDAY, JUNE 21, 2008, Make Music New York is back—and it's going to be even bigger and better! To learn how you can take part this year, as a performer or a venue, come to one of our workshops (below).
